

CONSENT RELEASE FORM

Audio, video and photographic

University of the Sunshine Coast
Australia

The University of the Sunshine Coast (University) regularly collects and uses audio, video, and photographs of people in a variety of ways, including for research, teaching, and promotional purposes as marketing material on its website and via social media in order to promote the University. In particular, the University may use audio, video, and photographs of people for purposes unrelated to the specific event at which the audio, video and photographs were taken.

The material, including images and/or voice recordings may be displayed to and shared with audiences including potential domestic and international students, members of the public, government, and other University stakeholders through various channels including brochures, magazines and newspapers, outdoor advertising, videos, social media and websites, and funding applications in Australia and overseas.

Audio recordings, video images or photographs that identify individuals may be considered personal information. UniSC collects and stores personal information in compliance with Queensland's Information Privacy Act 2009. Please visit usc.edu.au/privacy for more privacy information. For access to or correction of your personal information and complaints about a breach of your privacy please email rti-privacy@usc.edu.au

The University may wish to use, edit, reproduce and/or disclose audio, video, or photographs of you for the purposes stated above. If you consent to the use of audio recordings, video images or photographs for these purposes, please sign below.

Consent and release

I hereby agree to the University using, modifying/altering, reproducing and/or disclosing audio recording, video images or photographs of me, and where provided my name and other contextual information, for use in research and teaching materials, and promotional and marketing materials, including publications and/or on its website and other social media platforms in Australia and overseas.

I acknowledge and accept that by giving consent, I am not entitled to any payment for the use of my personal information in this manner and I release UniSC and its staff from and against any and all claims in connection with this.
